

WALKER INSTITUTE EXTERNAL SEMINAR

“Climate Change Science and Policy”

David Warrilow

Department for Energy and Climate Change

Weds, 27th January 1 – 2pm

Nike Lecture Theatre, Agriculture Building

David Warrilow’s role as Head of Climate Science and International Evidence within DECC is to ensure that the UK Government receives sound scientific advice on climate change with regard to both its domestic activities and international negotiations.

In the seminar David will be talking about how the UK and the world as a whole is trying to address the challenges of climate change and how vital it is that this policy is informed by scientific evidence. He will also comment on the outcome and implications of the latest UN climate change negotiations in Copenhagen in Dec 2009.

All welcome, but please email
j.genney@reading.ac.uk to book a place.